DEMOCRATIC "HARMONY" IN CALIFORNIA.

While the aftermath to the California Republican State Convention does not indicate such a degree of harmony in the party as could be desired, the discord is as a topsail breeze to a tempest, compared with the monkey and parrot noises of the Democracy preliminary to the nominations. The Examiner is bitterly opposed to White for U. S. Senator and indulges in most unparliamentary language in reference to that statesman's proposal to secure the endorsement by actual nomination for that position in the State Convention. The contest between Pond, English and Coleman for Governor is waxing excessively torrid, and compliments are being exchanged between the advocates of those candidates which betoken a razor-charged atmosphere in the convention, and which is likely to impregnate the breezes of the succeeding campaign. But the Examiner's pet abomination appears to be John P. Irish, the editor of the Alta, its Democratic rival and dearest foe. Mr. Irish is spoken of for a Congressional nomination, whereupon the Examiner gives him the following send-off:

The possibility has been suggested of the nomination of Mr. John P. Irish as the Democratic candidate in the Third District. Such a selection would be ample insanity. It would be as a sap in the face by every workman in the State, and by every other man not owned in fee simple by some estate, corporation or ring. Mr. Irish in his paper has been the supercilious lackey of every conscienceless magnate whose wealth has been able to purchase from even the most mercenary of other journals only the favor of silence. His insulting abuse of all the working people that ever try to improve their condition by organization will never be forgotten or forgiven by those who know about it. It is true that not many persons have read Mr. Irish's publication, but that deficiency would be amply supplied by the Republican State Central Committee in case of his nomination. The Alta would attain a circulation of which it has never dreamed. Copies of it would be put in the hands of every voter in the State, and the Democratic party would be held responsible for its utterances. The load would be too heavy to carry. If Mr. Irish is ambitious of distinction, let him get an appointment as dockworker at Fourth and Townsend streets, and not inflict himself upon the Democratic party in a hard campaign.

MOST SATISFACTORY.

Salt Lake Tribune. Silver is still on the upgrade. It shows symptoms of passing beyond all the calculations of the experts, and it is impossible to make anything like a safe prediction from day to day what it is going to do. In three months it has advanced twenty points. It has but sixteen more to go before it strikes high-water mark, and the Government has not yet begun to purchase the four and a half million ounces monthly. It would not be at all astonishing if, even before Congress meets, the old price should be established and the white metal be on a level with the yellow. The lovely feature is that the agricultural products of the East are advancing as fast as silver is, and for the first time in ten years something like a legitimate hope warms the hearts of the farmers. They were blinded a long time by a dishonest and unfaithful press, but it looks as though silver would now take care of itself and assert its sovereignty without any more weights being taken from it. It was a shameful thing that for seventeen years the Government of the United States, at the beck of a few interest gatherers, imposed such loss and hardship upon its own people. It was a calamity worse than an exhaustive war. It was simply a steady and steadily increasing robbery, and there was no relief until the wrong became unbearable. It would take a brave man, when Winter comes, to stand up in Congress and make any further fight against any measure to do full justice to silver.

DON'T HANDICAP THEM.

The Enterprise says: As the policy of either party is dictated by combinations that look upon our citizens at best with mild contempt, our State Conventions should relieve Congressmen of the embarrassment of party dictation when some advantage is plainly at stake. The freedom, if occasion requires, to make a vigorous fight outside party lines upon questions that are not political, will enable our representatives to tender political managers the only article they recognize as a consideration, and when Nevada is concerned they will listen respectfully lest they find opposition to their own plans. We think that both State Conventions should indicate a desire that Nevada's Senators and Representatives should act with absolute independence upon any matters appertaining directly or indirectly to the State.

Let it once be understood that no matter under which banner they team upon questions of national politics Nevada men are beyond the reach of a party lash when Nevada needs their services, and indifference and neglect will change to an eager desire to conciliate. Parties are cowardly, and the mountain of politics will come to the West as soon as the West quits going to the mountains.

Just an hundred years ago Samuel Hopkins obtained, for making pot and pearl ashes, the first patent ever issued by the Government, and in the first twelve months of the Patent Office's existence only two more certificates were issued. In the century since, however, 433,431 patents have been granted to Americans.

AN EXPLODED SENSATION.

The eminent statistician, Harold P. Brown of New York, sets at rest all doubts concerning the proper execution of Kemmler by the application of the alternating electrical current. Mr. Brown is the electrical engineer who made the experiments on animals for the commission appointed by the New York Legislature while the electrical execution bill was pending. He says:

Kemmler was dead within a second after the alternating current was turned on. My experiment with animals and the reports of the death show that one second's contact with the alternating current will prove instantly fatal; but that if this current is withdrawn before the expiration of twenty-five or thirty seconds the muscular rigidity caused by the passage of the current through the muscles, will be followed by corresponding relaxation, which may produce spasmodic expulsion of breath and attempts at respiration. If the current is kept on more than thirty seconds, there is no movement whatever of the muscles when the current is out off. Kemmler was killed instantly and painlessly within the first second, but as the current was opened (taken off) before thirty seconds had passed, there were reflex motions of the muscles which frightened some of the attendants into thinking that he was not dead. The current was applied the second time, and at once, as the report reached me, an appearance was produced on the face and hands of the criminal which showed beyond doubt that the first shock killed him.

This ought to put aside all of the sensational stories that Kemmler was tortured and died a lingering death, and that the execution was in short, a failure.

THE CONSOLIDATION OF COUNTIES.

The Silver State says that the county boundaries proposed by the Constitution submitted by the Board of Trade is printed in another column. The fourteen counties into which the State is now divided, are reduced to eight, Lander, Churchill, Nye, White Pine, Lyon and Douglas being consolidated with Esmeralda, Elko, Eureka, Humboldt, Lincoln, Ormsby, Storey and Washoe. As now defined, Humboldt will lose a strip a mile or so wide, on the east side, from the Oregon line to the railroad, near Battle Mountain, from which place it will gain territory south to a point near Kingston, a jog being made in the eastern line to leave Austin out. From near Kingston the line runs west, taking in nearly all of Churchill county, including Siltwater and the sinks of the Carson, to a point near Cleaver peak, from which place it turns north to the Oregon line, giving Washoe a strip of what is now Humboldt territory, including a part of Camp McHenry Reservation. This county gets about twenty miles of railroad now owned by Churchill and loses a mile and a half more of road on the east side.

The proposed division gives Humboldt no great cause for complaint, and in all probability if the people desire it, the eastern line of the county, might be left as it is, or extended far enough east to take in Battle Mountain.

WEAK STRIKERS.

According to the showing made by the New York Central strikers in the Knights of Labor Journal, they are clearly in the right and the railroad in the wrong. The company that is not satisfied with twelve hours' labor must wait the earth.

It is peculiar, however, that laborers in any part of this country would formally agree to work twelve hours per day, and it is perhaps not too much to say that these strikers deserve their present discomfiture for making such an agreement. When the laboring men of this country are making a determined and in some places a successful effort to secure eight hours as the maximum limit of a day's labor, it is suicidal for any organized body of laborers to agree to work twelve.

It is such actions as these that put off further the accomplishment of great reform. The world can run as well on an eight-hour basis as on twelve. This is the proper and legitimate way for the laboring man to secure a proper division of profits. But it can never be done until sufficient backbone can be implanted in every laborer to enable him to stand up firmly for his rights.

The S. F. Examiner, which has always been opposed to free coinage, makes the following admission:

"Silver has now gone considerably more than half way toward par by the unaided efforts of the Government. From 52 pence it has only 7 pence further to go to reach parity with gold. Even the New York Evening Post admits that the advance is likely to continue, and that it is improbable that production will increase sufficiently to cause a reaction. Perhaps it will be safe for Congress at its next session to enact free coinage."

It was about fifty years ago that Daniel Webster, speaking of the region then known as Oregon, said it was "so far off it could not be governed by the United States, and a delegate from it to Congress would not reach Washington till a year after the expiration of his term."

President Harrison has ordered that the price paid for silver by the Government should be made known to the public. It should never have been necessary for the President to issue such an order to the Director of Mints.

An Eighty-Mile Canal.

Inyo Register. Mr. F. Turner, the chief party in interest in the Sylvania mines has become much interested in the welfare of Owens valley, and it appears is one of the chief backers of the proposed big canal to run from Owens river to Salt Wells valley. A surveying party will begin the survey of this 80-mile canal about September 1st.

TO A GLOVE.

Go, virgin kid, with lambent kiss
Salute a virgin hand.
Go, senseless thing, and reap a bliss
Thou dost not understand;
Go, for in thee, methinks, I find (Though 'tis not half so bright)
An emblem of her beauteous mind
By nature clad in white.
Securely thou may'st touch the fair,
Whom few securely can.
May'st touch her breast, her lip, her hair,
Or wanton with her fan;
May'st coach it with her, to and fro,
From masquerade to plays
Ah! couldst thou hither come and go
To tell me what she says!
Go, thou, when the morning cold
Shall nip her lily arm,
Do thou (oh, might I be so bold)
With kisses make it warm.
But when thy glossy beauty's o'er,
When all thy charms are gone,
Return to me—I'll love thee more Than e'er I yet have done.
—Haberdaasher.

Tricks of the Birds.

"I was much amused one afternoon," says an observant friend, "by a little family scene on a twig of an elm tree, where a fly catcher had her tiny brood of five, just out of the nest, all perched in a row. She was feeding them, and the little dots took their rations with great content as often as the mother caught an insect and flew back with the morsel to each open beak in turn. The regularity with which she kept account, feeding one after another, in exact order, from top to bottom of the row, was very interesting. Presently one small chap grew impatient, and while the mother was away fluttered over and crowded himself into the place next to the bird last fed—exactly as if he had planned to get the next fly. He sat there, looking very sober and innocent when the mother returned, but she saw the trick at once, and gave the fly to the right bird, whisking the interloper (as I fancied) with her wing as she passed him, by way of cuffing his ears. Probably he was the rogue of the family, and she knew him too well."—Boston Transcript.

When Liszt Lived in a Flat.

Wrapped in his dressing gown, and with feet incased in slippers, Franz Liszt was sitting comfortably one evening in his arm chair, ready for work and inviting inspiration. On the floor above, in the apartments of a banker, a noisy musical soiree was in progress. Polonaises had succeeded waltzes, and nocturnes had followed polonaises, when suddenly the door of the salon opened and Liszt entered, still wrapped in his dressing gown. The astonishment of the company may be imagined. With slow steps Liszt walked toward the piano, and the young key pounder who was sitting at it quickly left his place. Liszt sat down at the instrument, carefully swept his fingers over the keys as if to prelude, and then suddenly he shut down the cover and put the key in his pocket. And immediately, with the same tranquil air with which he had entered, he went out and returned to his room, where he could work at his ease.—San Francisco Argonaut.

At a Maine Funeral.

A Maine clergyman, who evidently is somewhat interested in the matter of funeral reform, writes: "Some time ago I attended a funeral which took place on the 'outskirts of civilization.' At the close of the services, as usual in the country, an invitation was given to the audience to 'view the remains.' After they had done so the relatives of the deceased went forward to take their last look at the familiar features, and naturally were much affected, some of them sobbing and crying in an audible manner. When all were again seated the person who had charge of the funeral arose and remarked, 'We will now allow the friends a few minutes to get control of their feelings,' when he resumed his seat, while the silence was only broken by the sound of sobs and weeping, which gradually died away. It struck me as an innovation upon the usual funeral customs, but no one there seemed at all surprised."—Lewiston Journal.

A Large Hydraulic Riveting Plant.
An immense hydraulic riveting plant—the largest ever made—has been built in London for an engineering company in Holland, and is to be employed on marine boilers. The riveter has a gap 12 feet deep, closes its jaws with a power of 200 tons, and is capable of closing rivets up to 8½ inches in diameter. A traveling crane, 50 feet high, is designed to raise and manipulate a boiler weighing anything up to 50 tons. The crane is operated by two engines, steam for which and the powerful pumps giving hydraulic power for the riveter's great accumulator is supplied by two steel boilers, each capable of doing duty equal to about 180 indicated horse power.—New York Telegram.

Behind Time.

Some people go through life behind time. If they say they will come at 8, they mean half-past 8; and when they finally put in an appearance they do it leisurely and good naturedly, and are mildly surprised if you insinuate that you are displeased. When they die, though, their friends will be avenged, because they will probably reach the gates of heaven ten minutes behind time—and find them closed.—West Shore.

He Understood the Old Man.

The little boy had pounded his finger, and immediately set up a terrible hullabaloo. His father remonstrated with him, saying that he was no longer a baby and should act like a man.
"But," said the youngster, between his sobs, "if I act like a man I'd swear, and then you'd lick me!"—Exchange.

ROASTING A MINING TYRANT.

How the Men at the Khedive Lode Were Revenged at Lightning Speed.
In the mountains the miners frequently make their descent into the valleys by using a piece of "quaking ash" bark as a toboggan, but oftener rely on the tenacity of their heavy canvas overalls.

To some this method of transportation may seem absurd or impossible, but it is a fact nevertheless; men do go down the fearful slopes on the soft snow from the top of a two mile ridge in that manner faster than they ever did on a sled when a boy.

At the Khedive lode the miners had long borne a grudge against the superintendent, an overbearing ignoramus, so they swore they would get even with him some day.

The Khedive was located just two miles above the old government road leading to Gothic, at a bend, called "The Crook," and it required an hour's hard climbing on foot to get up to the mine from there.

One morning the superintendent came as usual to "inspect," as he termed it, but really to curse and rant around because the men could not make $100 ore yield $1,000.

The miners were just about tired of his tyranny and several suggested the propriety of giving him a pounding. However, Providence, who sometimes advocates the cause of the poor miner as well as that of the rich nabob who owns the property, came to the men's assistance at this critical juncture.

The obnoxious superintendent was expecting some important instructions from headquarters, and gave orders that if a telegram came to dispatch a clerk on horseback until he reached "The Crook," and there to discharge his pistol.

While tearing around, cursing the miners as was his wont, suddenly a shot rang out on the clear air and, looking down into the valley, all saw a messenger waving a paper.

The anxious superintendent was in a fix; he wanted that telegram in a hurry, but knew that the steep trail would demand an hour's hard work to reach there.

At this moment the wag of the crew stepped up to him and offered a big iron scoop shovel, suggesting that if he sat in that he could go down the hill quickly and safely.

The superintendent had often seen the descent made on the snow as stated, but he did not see the roguesh twinkle in the man's eye as he took the proffered implement.

His trousers were thin, so grasping the handle and sitting in the concave part of the shovel, he shot down the declivity; faster and faster he went until he fairly flew.

His seat by the terrible friction grew warmer and warmer as he sped recklessly on, but there was no stopping until the bottom was reached. He was literally roasted; but the miners had their revenge.—Kansas City Globe.

Ninety-six Feet of Snowfall in Colorado.
Did you ever stop to think and figure up how much loose snow actually falls in the course of an average mountain Colorado winter? If you have, didn't the amount amaze you? At Kokomo in 1884-5, by actual daily measurements, something like ninety-six feet of the beautiful fell between Nov. 1 and June 1. Of course it kept on settling all the time, and when spring opened up there wasn't more than six or seven feet on the ground. The snowfall at Kokomo is generally twice or three times what it is at Dillon, yet the amount that fell here during the winter of 1889-90 sounds like a big yarn, but the figures given below are absolutely correct and were carefully recorded daily by Mr. Pratt at Ryan Gulch, just north of town.

Amount of snowfall, gauged at a point one mile north of Dillon, between the first day of November, 1889, and May 10, 1890: November, 38 inches; December, 31 inches; January, 31 inches; February, 41 inches; March, 70 inches; April, 23 inches; May, 17 inches—making a total of 20 feet 10 inches. About eight-tenths of this snow fell during the night time, and nearly one-half of it was very damp, settling rapidly as it fell. These figures seem preposterous, yet Dillon is not much of a place for snow either, and gets less of the beautiful than any other town in the county.—Dillon Enterprise.

Metal in Bookbinding.

Metal has for some time been very advantageously used in the binding of books as a substitute for cardboard. A special preparation is first necessary, and the leather may be bent and straightened again without perceptible damage, a course of treatment that would destroy cardboard covers. The metal is covered with any material that tastes may dictate, and the finished book shows no difference in appearance excepting in greater thinness of the cover, which is always desirable.—New York Telegram.

They Made a Better Article Themselves.
Woman (to drug store clerk)—Have you an article called a two cent postage stamp on sale?

Drug Clerk (mechanically)—We sometimes keep it, but I think we are out of it just now. There is very little demand for it. Quite inferior, I assure you. Now, we make an article of our own that—oh, it is a postage stamp you want. Certainly, here is one. Have it charged?—Texas Sittings.

It Is Not Cruel.

A college boy at Adrian undertook to ride a bucking broncho. The broncho bucked and kicked and cavorted and stood on both ends by turns, and a citizen had the boy arrested for cruelty to animals. The jury, taking into consideration the characteristics of the broncho, found that it was not cruel and acquitted the defendant.—Detroit Free Press.

The case of Storey county vs. the State of Nevada for money due the officers of the special election on February 11, 1889, was on Monday decided by Judge Rising in favor of the plaintiff for $680 and $200 costs. Later the case of Ormsby county vs. the State for the same kind of a claim was decided in the same way.

The JOURNAL has received a letter from Sam Davis. Everybody in this office has had a whack at it and opinion is about equally divided as to whether its contents relate to Huletts bulls, the lottery scheme, the tariff bill or Deacon Parkinson. It was moved, seconded and carried that it be referred to the Committee on Platform and Resolutions at the Democratic State Convention.

THE CATTLE LOSSES.

Their Extent Just Beginning to be Realized.

T. B. Riekey, who recently returned from a two months' trip through the Eastern part of the State, says the Appeal, has this to say of the situation:

"Stockmen are just beginning to realize the extent of their losses. Parkinson, of the Land & Cattle Company, hit the estimate nearer than anyone. He figured the losses at 95 per cent, and they certainly reach that. I have been riding ever since June 15th over our ranges and we have lost at least 30,000 head of cattle. In Humboldt county in one of the ravines, I saw herds of cattle for three miles. They were piled up as many as three or four hundred in a bunch. A herd which had sought shelter from the storm was covered up with snow and died; another herd went in on top and suffered the same fate. And so they kept piling on top of each other and dying as the snow drifted over them. They were piled thirty feet high. It was like the French cavalry that went into the sunken road at Waterloo.

"It makes one's heart sink to think of the sufferings of those poor beasts. They must have trampled each other under foot. Think of a writhing mass of dying cattle prostrate in the ravine and another drove of a hundred strong stampeding right in on top of them, and the storm burying them all in a common grave. There must have been terrible struggles for the bones of many of them were broken. The sun has dried out the top ones but the effluvia from those underneath is sickening.

THE AMERICAN PARTY.

A Member Explains the Object of its Organization.

The American party claims a membership of 480 voters in this county, which number is said to be increasing daily by the addition of new names to the roll. One of the organizers of the party informs the Chronicle that their object is to break up the state system of nominating candidates, whose only question of availability is that they have been selected by the bosses of either party.

There is nothing of the "Know Nothing" sentiment in the principles of the party and any American citizen, no matter what the place of his nativity or political opinions, is eligible to membership.

The organizers of the new party claim that they will be strong enough to hold the balance of power, and whichever way their members cast their ballots will decide the election of any candidate—the party voting solidly for the best man, irrespective of which political party he belongs to.

The standing of the organizers of the new party in the community, the Chronicle's informant claims, precludes any suspicion that the votes of the members can be bought or that the name is only a new one for a "sellout club."—Va. Chronicle.

In other words, the Virginia organization has appropriated the name of the American party without adopting any of its principles. It may be as the Chronicle's informant says, about the character of the membership, but to a man up a tree the methods resemble very closely those of an ordinary place club.

Perpetual Motion.

A gentleman named Bull, says the Enterprise, is around town exhibiting an invention which he claims to be a solution of perpetual motion.

Of course, it is a wheel, and a lot of weights run to the outer edge of the wheel; thence to the bottom; thence up an incline belt to the center of the wheel, ready for another trip.

Mr. Bull is a very fair-spoken gentleman. He says if it works there is plenty of money in it for all investors, and if it does not they will all be out their investment. The Enterprise can condemn the wheel only on general principles. There is no one connected with this paper competent to judge it.

Mr. Bull has interested Oliver Loukey at Verdi in his wheel, who has taken considerable stock in the affair, and he is now endeavoring to sell more stock in order to raise enough money to make a trial of his invention.

To our mind, though, if there is any merit in Mr. Bull's invention, he should present his paper to mechanics of reputation instead of trying to sell the stock upon our streets. He showed his machine to Charley Matthews yesterday, one of the best civil and mechanic engineers on the coast, and Charley, who has about as much diplomacy as a mule, told him he didn't think it was worth a d—n.

Complimentary to Woodburn, says the Carson Tribune, to many friends of Hon. William Woodburn to see him nominated for Lieutenant Governor. His experience and training in Congress combined with his natural alertness and aptitude for parliamentary procedure admirably qualify him for that honorable position. He would be the best presiding officer that the Nevada Senate ever had and would direct its deliberations with dignity, zeal and celerity.

A VALUABLE DEED.

Property Worth Millions of Dollars Transferred.

Late yesterday afternoon, says the S. F. Bulletin, a deed was filed in the Recorder's office by which property valued at several millions of dollars was transferred to the Pacific Improvement Company. The grantors are Leland Stanford, Collis P. Huntington, Mary F. S. Searles, Edward F. Searles, Thomas E. Stillman, Thomas H. Hubbard, Mary Ann Crocker, Charles F. Crocker, William H. Crocker, George Crocker, Harriet V. Alexander, and Charles F. Crocker and William H. Crocker, executors.

The transferred property includes ninety different pieces of property, among which are the railroad building at Fourth and Townsend streets and the land and buildings thereon used as freight sheds extending along Townsend to Sixth from Third and the Potrero lands.

The reason for the filing of the deed is that the parties concerned desired to make the property available and marketable, and they think the best way to do this is to have it in the name of the Pacific Improvement Company. The grantors are all stockholders in the Improvement Company.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES.

A Premium of $100 for the Best County Exhibit.

The Sixth Annual Fair of the State Agricultural Society will be held at Reno from September 22d to 26th inclusive. An effort is being made, says the Silver State, to continue the Pavilion as one of the grand features of the Fair, and 44 special premiums will be given by the citizens of Reno for Pavilion exhibits, in addition to the regular catalogue premiums of the Society.

A premium of $100 is offered for the best county exhibit of fruit and vegetables. Why cannot a few of our farmers club together and get this premium? Samples of grains, grasses, fruits and vegetables can be sent from this county which it is safe to say cannot be excelled in the State. Our agricultural products can be flanked by samples of salt, sulphur and gypsum and specimens of gold, silver, antimony, copper, lead, nickel and cobalt ores, making an exhibit that few counties in the United States can equal.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-sw-ly

Civility in Trade.

Human nature is weak, and the best of us are liable to err, but it is a bad thing to err on the side of incivility. No matter how large or small an order may be—five cents or $50,000—the buyer is entitled to courteous treatment and prompt attention. The mouse gnawed the lion free of the net, and the five-cent man may know a $50,000 order man, whom he will take where he will be well treated. As the Engineer, from which we copy, says, civility pays every time. It is a cardinal point in business, and bores should remember that rudeness always recoils upon those who exhibit it.

The Jumbo Mine.

The Baycraft brothers, says the Carson Tribune, are working industriously on the Jumbo mine, west of Genoa. The ore shipped to the Morgan mill a month since worked over $100 to the ton. A larger shipment will be made in a few days and the boys claim that a better return will be the result. The ledge is very broad, well defined and the ore seems to be improving in quality.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind. "I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat I did not get well of myself. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." BAY STATE.

Name of the Hulk Recently Found in San Francisco.

Charles Sullivan, a veteran resident of the Comstock, who arrived on the Pacific Coast in 1849 in the ship Mount Vernon, informs the Virginia Chronicle that the ship's hulk recently found on Davis street in San Francisco was that of the Bay State, moored there in January, 1850. He says the hulk of the Globe was moored further north and was painted a light color while the hulk of the Bay State was painted black.

Upward of 3,000 tons of alfalfa hay will be put up on the Nevada Land & Cattle Company's ranch in Squaw valley this year.

Primary Election

—Of the People on—

SATURDAY, AUGUST 16, 1890,

For the purpose of electing delegates to the said
State Convention the Primary Election to be carried out in compliance with the laws of the State and the instructions of this Committee.

The following test will be required of each and every voter at the said Primary Election:

"I am a citizen of the State and will support the nominees of the Republican party."

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this committee reaffirms the State and National Republican platform of 1888, including the declaration that "the Republican party is in favor of the man of both gold and silver as money" and that it "condemns all efforts to demonetize silver."

Resolved, That the persistent neglect of Secretary Winton to increase the coinage of silver to the maximum of four million dollars per month, compelled by his attempt to influence Congressional legislation so as to perpetuate silver demonetization is a shameful violation of the platform of the National Republican platform, and at ack upon the rights and interests of the miners, farmers and workers of the land, and an act of party expediency that should call for his retirement from the councils of an administration which is pledged to help and not to hinder the remonetization of silver.

Resolved, That the Republican party of this State is in favor of free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver; that it holds to this principle as a test of party faith and a test of party allegiance, and that it will persist in no abandonment or modification of this position, and that it will persevere to the principle of bimetallicism it will remain steadfast thereto, and that it invites all voters in Nevada who favor the repeal of the infamous international law of 1873 by which silver was demonetized, and who desire the establishment of free and unlimited coinage as the law of the United States of America, to join in electing delegates to a Republican State Convention.
